Producer-Distributors Involved Are All of Those Handling Milk in Atlanta and Decatur Areas.

Months of seemingly endless negotiations, hearings and conferences in an effort to stabilize milk prices of the Atlanta milkshed have culminated in the adoption of a minimum price agreement by members of the Co-operative Raw Milk Association under which minimum prices of 11 cents a quart on retail cash and carry and 12 cents on retail delivered sweet milk will be placed in effect Monday, representatives of the association announced Friday.

Present retail sweet milk prices to the consumer will be increased by 1 cent a quart at the chain stores to meet the minimum scale. Retail delivered prices have been ranging from 9 cents to 20 cents a quart for sweet milk.

Many High School Pupils Will Enter Essay Contest OPPOSED BY

Essays are being submitted to The Constitution in its prize contest for the best paper on southern literature in the world of letters.

The contest is open to boys and girls in the high schools of Georgia. Many of the schools have already signified their intention of having their pupils enter.

It is expected that, by the time the competition ends, many more essays will be entered.

As recently stated, through an error some papers were returned to their authors. These, as might be implied, were not rejected, and if they are sent ror some papers were returned to their authors. These, as might be implied, were not rejected, and if they are sent back will be given consideration. None of the papers will be judged until the contest closes.

The closing time is midnight on April 30.—Essays must be limited to 500 words, must be written on one side of the paper only, and show the name of the author. Judges to be named later will read the papers, and the 15 best will be awarded as many sets of 10 volumes each of the Library of Southern Literature.

The Library of Southern Literature was compiled under the supervision of southern educators and men of letters. Edwin Anderson Alderman and Charles Alphonso Smith were the editors-in-chief, and Charles William Kent and John Calvin Metcalf were the literary editors.

The library includes the productions of orators and statesmen, including Washington, Lee, Jefferson, Stephens and others: historians and biagraphers, poets and dramatists, novelists and dialect writers, theologians and philosophers, educators and scientists, writers of travel and description, essayists and journalists, women writers of note—all southern-born.

Each writer is introduced with a biography and a choice of binding is offered. The books are not only entertaining and instructive, but are also ornamental, worthy of a place in any well-selected library.

A new edition of the Library of Southern Literature has just been published by the Martin & Holt Co., publishers, of Atlanta.

added impetus to the trek of mining men over trails made perilous by the melting snows of an early spring.

Reports from the area said three men working for a few weeks on one claim recovered more than $7,000 in gold, based only on the former United States price of $20.67 an ounce.

Most of the claims at Squaw Creek have been staked by Indians, who sought only nuggets. The white men, with their better methods of reclaim, with their better methods of reclaiming gold and the new high price, expect to reap a rich harvest.

Sterilization Is Urged by Biologist To Protect Unborn From Unfitness

Sterilization as a means of protecting the unborn against imbecility, disease and inherited malformations of various kinds was urged Friday by Dr. Robert C. Rhodes, professor of biology at Emery University, at a luncheon meeting of the Atlanta Masonic Club at the Frances Virginia tea room.

sonic Club at the Frances Virginia tea room.

He referred to a sterilization bill now in a committee of the Georgia assembly, as an enabling act. Tweney-seven states have such laws, he added, which deal primarily with a population problem.

"Each existing generation is in a fashion a trustee for the one to come," Dr. Rhodes said. "We have achieved remarkable success in our civilization thus far. We are to be congratulated, as the president said, on having reached the point where no man, woman or child among us will be allowed to starve."

But, Dr. Rhodes qualified, no consideration has been given to the population problem, to the reproduction of the species according to the scientific plan of breeding followed by animal but the population in 1927 showed that 25 per cent of the lowest strata in the population in London reproduced 50 per cent of the whole.

LOW INTEREST RATES PAID ON FARM LOANS

Loans of Four States Total $43,600,000 in Less Than Year.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(P)— Farmers in the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida who have had their mortgages refinanced through the Columbia (S. C.) Federal Land bank are now paying lower interest rates than before, the farm credit administration an-nounced today.

An analysis by the administration shows that interest rates of 5 to 9 per cent that prevailed before have been scaled down to where the largest rate on the refinanced mortgages is 5 per cent, and on a large proportion it is only 4 1-2 per cent. The lower rates will prevail for the life of the

The analysis, covering both federal land bank and land bank commission-ers' farm mortgage loans, dealt only with interest rates paid on first and ers' farm mortgage loans, dealt only with interest rates paid on first and second mortgages and upon short-term commercial bank loans. It did not deal with other classes of debts or many untraceable items bearing upon the cost to the farmers of carrying their debts, such as loan and renewal fees. The total of loans closed from last June through March of this year in the Columbia Federal Land bank district, composed of the four states, was about $43,600,000.

The administration said the bulk of the loans carried interest rates from 5 to 9 per cent but that in some localities and in the cases of a number of loans, interest rates as high as 10 per cent and above were paid by farmers on their debts.

The average rate paid by farmers on mortgage debts refinanced with land bank loans in these states was 6.7 per cent, while the average paid on short-term, commercial bank loans was 6.6 per cent and 6.7 per cent.

The average charge on all the indebtedness refinanced with land bank loans was 6.7 per cent. Against this rate farmers pay on their land bank loans 4 1-2 per cent interest until July 1, 1938, after which the rate becomes 5 per cent. Borrowers who obtained their loans direct from federal land banks instead of through national farm loan associations pay a rate one-half of one per cent higher.

PLUCKING FLOWERS VIOLATION OF LAW, SAYS GARDEN CLUB

Officials of garden clubs in Atlanta Friday issued a warning to the public that plucking of wild flowers or the mutilation of trees is a misdemeanor in Georgia and all who destroy flowers or foliage except on their own property are subject to arrest and prosecution. There also is a city ordinance in Atlanta prohibiting such vandalism.

Garden club members were especially anxious that the public refrain from destroying dogwood blossoms. The Garden Club of Georgia will meet here Thursday and Friday and special efforts will be made to keep vandalism at a low point before and during the meeting.

The state law prohibiting destruc-tion of flowers and trees was passed by the legislature a few years ago after the Peachtree Garden Club and others led the movement.

BATTLEFIELD RELICS SEEN AT REGENSTEIN'S

A number of relics from the Kennesaw mountain national battefield site are now on display at Regenstein's, on Peachtree street. This is national park year, and the display is intended to call attention of the public to the national parks in the south, and to encourage people to visit these interesting and historic spots.

A number of the items are from the private collection of W. A. and R. B. DuPre, of Marietta, and from the collection of the Channell brothers, of Marietta. Several guns in this exhibit are of unusual interest, since A number of relics from the Ken-

ATLANTA, GA., APRIL 14, 1934. OUR HOMICIDE RECORD.

As has been the case in previous years, southern cities are shown in compilations recently released to have led the country in 1933 in the number of homicides per 100,-000 population, Atlanta ranking fifth among all the cities of the country, as against second for 1932.

Despite the decrease in rank. with four instead of one city having a worse record in the number of violent killings, murders increased in Atlanta from 122, or 39.7 per 100,000 population, in 1932, to 154, or 47.6 per 100,000, during 1933.

Chicago, almost 10 times as large crime conditions in the country, has only three times as many homicides, her rate being only 14.2 per 100,000 population. Such cities as New York, Los Angeles, Detroit and Philadelphia all have rates of approximately 7 per 100,000, which is also the rate of most of the cities of Atlanta's size in the country. The average for the country

Further illustration of the extent to which life is violently taken in the United States is shown by the fact that the homicides in the 14 largest cities of Canada, with a combined population of 2,750,000, totaled less than a third of those in Atlanta alone.

The predominance of homicides in the south as against the other sections of the country is attributable to the large negro population in this section, but the murders committed in every class of as $2,000,000,000, now described our population are a humiliating indication of the lack of respect for become available for mortgages. law and for its enforcement agencies in the United States as compared to that existing in other well-governed countries.

Back of this record, and largely. so large a per cent of our people ated. to take the law into their own hands, is the inefficiency of our ing the administration of justice.

When a man commits murder in England, or any of its dominions, or in the continental European nations, he finds the road to the gallows or the guillotine a short and certain one. Just the opposite is true in this country.

When the processes of our courts are speeded up, we will see a sharp falling off in homicides, and in all other types of crime, but it is useless to expect it under present con-

The most puzzling question asked me from the audience came in Montreal, where a sweet blonding stood up and asked in a most musical voice: "Can the speaker tell me whether he believes in human nature?"

The building trades, with their allied industries, are the biggest single employers of labor under normal conditions, and since they have not as yet responded as have other industries to the recovery program, a sharp increase in their activities will furnish the best opportunity to create new employment.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON.

SPRING WASHINGTON, April 13.—The trouble with this administration is it has no romance.

There can be no doubt about that in view of what has happened on the inside to cause this current congressional flurry against

Names cannot be used, and figures must be slightly disguised, in order to tell the whole story in print, but the facts are guaranteed. They center around a crowd of red-blooded, adventurous oil prospectors, the kind who can drill a hole in your pocket even if you wear iron trousers. These boys prospected the safety deposit boxes and old socks around the country and decided there was too much hoarding. They agreed to remedy the situation by selling some stock at 35 cents on the dollar, not as a business proposition, of course, but just because in the spring a prospector's fancy always turns to thoughts of selling stock. POETRY The proposition was placed before the federal trade commission. The prospectors pointed out that the company was capitalized for $800,000, meaning 800,000 shares of stock at $4 par value.

Just as when knighthood was in flower, the big nature lovers were going to let the public in, not on the ground floor, but two basements below, at 35 cents a share. Of all the new dealers, the federal trade commissioners are the least romantic. They have the sentimentalism of a faro dealer

They began to ask questions which led some playing for the house. of the commissioners to understand that the oil property behind this $800,000 venture originally had been bought for $4,000. The commissioners were in doubt as to the actual present value of the property, but at least one of them figured it at no more than company contended the property had a book value An $800,000 stock issue on a $20,000 property requires considerable romantic faith, and it soon became evident to the promoters that the commissioners had no poetry in their souls.

FIGHT An adjournment of the hearing was asked, and the romanticists dashed up to congress, where sentimentalism usually is rampant in an election year such as this. There they found sympathy, and understanding.

Certain congressmen, whom they interested in the subject, called meeting. Some of the federal trade commissioners were invited One did. The others declined

At that meeting, it was agreed that the congressmen and the commissioners could never agree on how much imagination there should be in capital stock. One congressman bluntly said as much and accused the commissioners of being phlegmatic materialists.

That started the fight which has been going on ever since.

PROSPECTS Those who know say there will be an amendment to the securities act, modifying the liabilities section. But no two will agree on the wording of a specific amend-

The liberals who wrote the act are strongly against repealing the clause entirely. They do not mind exempting corporation of-ficials who make excusable mistakes in filing statements with the commission. But they are dead set against weakening the act by repealing the whole section. They want to make culpable corporation officials liable for mis-statements.

That is not as easy as it sounds. The whole theory of the act is at stake in the wording of the amendment.

YAWN Those who attended that Wirt party out in Virginia say it was the dullest rag-chewing session the parlor pinks The week before, the same crowd had a fine time because there were no Wirts present and they had a chance to get in a word of

Another Letter From a Bald-Headed Dad To His Red-Headed Daughter -By Robert Quillen -

My Dear Louise: Now that you are beginning to wonder what to do with your life, let me give you two words of caution that will save you from needless anxiety and a mistake that might proze tragic.

The first is this: Don't expect to build Rome in less than the usual time.

I get letters from young people who are dis-couraged and bitter because their first efforts haven't set the world afire.

Some of them are fledgling authors, sensitive as a sore thumb, and their first rejection ships seem as final as a no-admittance sign. You will feel that way, too, when you hear the world's first indifferent "no," and here is balm for your hurts.

ROBERT QUILLEN.

The first effort of a great genius sometimes brings success. If your first effort doesn't, you probably aren't a genius-not a lucky one, any-What then? Well, people who aren't geniuses have to keep on trying, ear after year, to win the world's acclaim and start a bank account

If that is frue—and a little reading of biography will show you how very true it is—why should you expect anything better? If everybody else has to walk a long hard road to get there, what right have you to feel discouraged or think yourself uncommonly illtreated because nature doesn't change the rule and give you a short cut? One slap isn't proof of hard luck if everybody else got a dozen.

The other word is somewhat similar. You are told that education really isn't necessary because Ford got rich and famous without it. Well, here again is the question of genius.

If you know you are a feminine Ford, don't waste time on further education. But what if it turns out that you aren't?

Ford was a poor nobody until after the age of 40. Can you wait that long to find out whether you are a genius to whom education isn't Don't let such fellows fool you. They have no education, but other fellows in the same fix are digging ditches for them: You need little training to "take in sewing," but you will need a great deal to become another Poiret or Worth.

MIAMI, April 13. — noble profes of rushing Liquor Tide Always High rushing the great American growler, which engaged many brave boatmen along this coast for years apparently was doomed by the repeal of prohibition but if the coast guard, customs and immi-gration forces do no better job in the future than they have done up to now, repeal will not make any difference. Something has been very rotten in the patrol service on this shore. Being no detective I cannot say whether anybody was taking graft from the rum-runners who brought the liquor in by the cargo or the force was inadequate or just dumb. But it didn't do a good job and, as a consequence this shore, dumb. But it didn't do a good job and, as a consequence this shore, ever since the start of the real estate boom has been more plentifully supplied with genuine liquor than any other place in the United States, not excepting New York. Moreover, there is still much liquor to be had from local bootleggers which, from the fact that the bottles wear no American revenue stamps around their necks, would seem to have been smuggled through the patrols.

Florida still has a prohibition law of her own. The citizens might have repealed it, if they could have laid hands to it, when they were rescinding the eighteenth amendment but governments prefer to do things the hard and expensive way so there will be a separate voting on the old state prohibition law next fall. Then, by th. time the winter customers return in Nogember, the state will be legally wet and the profession of running in case goods from Gun Key, a British possession, will have lost its protective character of a noble service and become a criminal business.

sugglers ways have operated along the keys of Florida and they seem to be persons of low moral character and no ethics. Grim stories are told of a man named Alderman, hanged on the coast guard reservation at Fort Lauderdale a couple of years ago for murdering a coastguardsman and a special agent of the department of justice at sea. Alderman seems to have been a Blackbeard in modern dress, for people tell of his running out of Cuba with boatloads of Chinese coolies at from $300 to $1,000 a head, promising to land them out to sea at night, walking them over the side at the point of a gun to die among the sharks. Chinese coolies ordinarily are no great hands to write loving letters home to their families so the fact that they never were heard from after that would have aroused no suspicions.

There is no point in bringing up the fine old reputation of the coast guard for seamanship and courage because that reputation doesn't answer the fact that liquor washed this shore like a sea during a long time when the guard and the other services were supposed to keen it out. If when the guard and the other services were supposed to keep it out. If the patriots were doing their best it was a very punk best and the fact that so much liquor came through suggests that great quantities of dope could have come through also. detect all the violators or to investi-gate all the complaints.

The reason for this gradual collapse of the NRA theory of compulsion is that the government arbitrarily told businessmen, large and small, to shorten hours and increase pay rolls, and this added to the costs all along the line. The strong businesses could stand the increases. The weak ones could not

If any of the personnel who were paid by the government and kept afloat at great public expense to keep the liquor out during prohibition fell into the habit of collecting duties of their own from the runners, the habit might be hard to break now. Not only would the grafter, himself, have dulled his sense of duty but the rum-runner would have something on him and he might be afraid to turn square and say no.

During prohibition, the government denied itself the right to collect any tax on imported liquor so the citizen who bought an untaxed case did not consider that he was cheating the treasury. He was merely outsmarting Righeon Cappan Mrs. Ella Bools and respection to the problem of get-who bought an untaxed case did not consider that he was cheating the treasury. He was merely outsmarting Bishop Cannon, Mrs. Ella Boole and all the rest of the ovable gents and ladies of the right, and presenting his squawk against a law which he considered to be no good. It is the sentiment of many persons who buy liquor now, however, that the government deserves its percentage but this fine, patriotic determination might be weakened by the temptation of cut rates for smuggled goods.

Long Haven

Will the NRA meet the same fate? There are signs that the government is experiencing almost exactly the same reaction to the problem of getting evidence locally to convict those who are unable to comply with the considered to be no good. NRA mechanism, but they cannot see how the government can take the responsibility for increasing costs and this limiting competition just because it is desired to keep wages from lagging behind improved business.

Problem for Roosevelt.

Some definition of the area in which the NRA shall move in the future must soon be made. With President Roosevelt back from his vacation this is expected to become one of his most important problems. The only practicable solution thus far suggested has come from business itself—use the NRA code system to maintain minimum wages, keep child labor and sweatshop conditions from coming back, work out trade practices that come plainly within the meaning of the past 40 years, and leave to trade and industrial associations the major task of securing adherence as far as possible with those trade practices.

The essential difference between far as possible with those trade practices.

The essential difference between this plan and what is being done today is that the government has involved itself in the question of establishing minimum sales costs and this has been the cause of rising prices to the consumer, as well as confusion and chaos all along the line. A minimum of artificial control by government and a maximum of responsibility placed on trade associations, with moral pressure from the government, is the only way the NRA can be saved from complete collapse in the next few months.

As Key and Gilliam attempted to obtain an expression from the finance committee concerning the levy of an emergency tax in the event the bonds are not sold, sharp antagonism developed. The committee was torn asunder with varying views, and a majority of those present appeared to be opposed to any such procedure.

There was grave doubt that the committee itself would sanction such a levy even if administration pressure were applied to its full extent, and even less likelihood that council itself would favor it.

Alderman I. Gloer Hailey, chairman of the benevolence and pensions committee of council, warned of an impending revolution of "pallid cheeked men, women and children if relief funds are cut off and they are forced to go hungry."

He estimated that 80,000 persons in attanta and Fulton county are recipients of relief funds.

"Those people are just like lions in a cage, and it will take 4,000 policemen instead of 400 to protect the homes of citizens if we allow them to go hungry. We cannot afford to do that even if it means an emergency tax. We should saquerly with this matter and deal squarely with it."

Seeks Voice in Spending.

Hailey said he felt that Atlanta should have some voice in administration of the farge sums by the federal government, citing the fact that local officials are not consulted in disbursing the funds.

Alderman J. Sid Tiller, of the third ward, suggested that Clark Howell, Major John S. Cohen and Herbert Porter, publishers of The Constitution, Valural and Georgian, respectively, backed by a committee from the Atlanta council, proceed to Washington in an effort to have Reconstruction Finance Corporation or some other federal agency but the bonds. By CLYDE BEALE.

VALDOSTA, Ga., April 13.—(A)—
Mack Broadfield's invention for manufacturing super-phosphates, which make up approximately 50 per cent of all commercial fertilizers has attracted attention of fertilizer men and chemists in many countries.

His invention turns out the product in eight weeks, compared with old processes of manufacturing which required four to six months.

A group of chemical engineers from soviet Russia, considering the matter of buying rights for erection of a plant in their country, visited Broadfield's plant here this week. The inventor of the machine, a native of Americus, Ga., now has plants operating in a number of foreign countries.

"In the old system of manufacturing super-phosphates," he said, "the formula of ingredients was weighed by more or less unsupervised negro labor and the analysis of the product varied. In our system the formula is calculated by chemical analysis of the Florida city but they escaped injury.

These illustrations have tied in some of the country's most popular comic strips and the displays are cartoons themselves.

"Atlanta motorists will be quick to recognize the superiority of this product over our previous gasoline, which itself introduced new motoring pleasure everywhere," Mr. Kelly stated.

Increase Noted After Influx Touches Lowest Point in History.

NEW YORK, April 13 .- (AP)-After a drop to the lowest point in history immigration to the United States is slowly increasing again-largely by visas granted German Jews who are leaving Germany because of Hitler's anti-semitic program.

This situation was indicated here today by John F. Simmons, chief of the state department's visa division, in an address at Hunter College.

Based on visas already granted, Simmons said, visa officials estimate that 32,742 immigrants will enter the country during the present fiscal year, as against 26,511 last year.

Statistics already tabulated show there has been an increase in quota immigrants of 53 per cent and an increase in non-quota immigration (from Canada, Mexico and the immediate relatives of American citizens from all countries) of 11 per cent.

The outstanding increase, this year, Simmons explained, is from German visas which are being sought at three times the rate they were in 1933. From 90 to 95 per cent of the German visas are being issued to Jewish applicants. During the first eight months of this year 2,395 German visas were issued, as against 1,241 during 12 months of 1933.

Without specifying Jews, Simmons said that the state department has instructed American consul dealing with the "refugee class" to give them "the most humane and favorable treatment possible under the law." from all countries) of 11 per cent.

Jennings Bryan, Rainey asserted in a formal statement that there was "an overwhelming sentiment" in the house for such action. He said it reflected the views of the country generally. Meanwhile, senate silverites laid plans to bring up an omnibus silver measure carrying three plans for improving the economic status of the metal. The measure has been reported to the senate by the agriculture committee with its approval.

To the Dies bill, passed by the house, offering to accept payment for foreign sales of agricultural surpluses in silver at or above the world price. The committee added the Thomas silver nationalization plan and the Wheeler purchase plan.

The senate silver group is confident of obtaining passage of one or another of the three proposals. Tests this session have shown a steady trend toward a majority for silver aid. An effort to attach the Wheeler proposal to the dollar devaluation bill in January failed by only a few votes.

Georgia Fields And Streams By H. A. Carter.

My young friend, A. B. Evans, who has been interested in natural history for some time, brought me three snakes yesterday. They are nice specimens, too. He brought in a small Natrix or banded water snake, a small Diadophis, or ring-neck snake, and a good DeKay's snake.

good DeKay's snake.

None of these specimens is remarkable. There is nothing new to be learned from them. Yet, for all that, they mean a lot to me. For one tling, the ring-neck is to be used in a drawing, showing the fresh colors of specimens in their first spring. Second, I like to see interest in boys come to the point that they are willing to find out the fundamentals by their own observations. This young man knew every specimen by the correct name, yet I have heard men three times his age brag about killing the rect name, yet I have heard men three times his age brag about killing the deadly ground rattler in their gardens, and upon asking them to produce the corpse, be utterly dumfounded to learn that all they had killed was an innocuous little snake that can be made to eat earthworms while held in the hand. I learned that just the other day, and tried it out myself. It really happens.

Culbertson on Contract By ELY CULBERTSON,

World's Champion Player and Greate Card Analyst.

A Kingdom for a Lead Mr. John P. Mattheys is recognized as one of the best bridge play-ers in New York. His favorite hauhts after business hours are Crockford's Club and the Whist Club, and quite recently he mournfully recounted a terrible experience which happened to him at the Whist Club, the source terrible experience which happened to him at the Whist Club, the source of the laws governing rubber contract bridge. Some of the members of this club use a system of artificial bidding to show aces and kings in the early stages, and gradually in the higher altitudes, if the honor strength disclosed by these bids is sufficient, perhaps reach out after slame.

Mr. Mattheys, of course, was famil-Mr. Mattheys, of course, was familiar with this system of bidding and on the doleful occasion which I am discussing he could see the danger of a slam being bid and made when his opponent on the left opened the bidding with one club, showing a minimum of ace, king, ace and another king. His partner passed, and third hand bid one notrump, which under this artificial system showed the other two aces. But perhaps the hand will be understood better if I show it here:

AKQJ 109 K 5 4 3 The bidding:

Pass Pass

Pass Pass
The artificial nature of North and South's bidding has already been discussed. Mr. Mattheys' bid of two diamonds was designed as a defense against the seven-bid which he feared might be in the offing. When the seven hearts had been bid, Mr. Mattheys felt quite confident that bis partner must open the diamond suit, but decided that he would reinforce the demand by a double. However, his partner in the East read the bid in another way. He decided that the double indicated not ability to win a diamond trick, but a high card in some other suit or the possibility of a ruff in another suit; so he led a spade, and the contract of seven, against which Mr. Mattheys thought he had erected a perfect bidding and playing defense, was made. Nancy wondered whether Susan might not prove susceptible to color. So she experimented. One day she cooked the cereal in Susan's daily quota of beef broth. And to the cereal she added the sifted beet pures which was a part of the daily diet. And so, Susan ate the pretty dish with never a peep.

Another day Nancy cooked the cereal in milk and beat into it an egg. Much to her joy Susan was going to like and apreciate color as much as Nancy did herself, for the cereal was eaten to the last spoonful.

It was a few days later that Nancy was so asham could be a deventuresome Susan climbing up on her chair to reach a flower, a gay tulip, which was on the sideboard. Nancy screamed, for she could see that Susan was tottering. The scream frightened Susan so that

At this thought he could not repress a shudder. Children? But that meant the surrender of all the lovelimess which had filled the vision of his eyes all these years, the surrender to the possession, the brutal possession of a man.

AMATEUR NINES TO OPEN SEASON

City and Commercial Leagues Pry Off 1934 Lid at City Parks.

Atlanta's annual amateur baseball season will get under way this after-noon with two leagues opening their schedules. Several other textile and neighborhood leagues will open in widely scattered sections of the state today to add to the baseball interest.

today to add to the baseball interest.

The City league, which has the reputation of containing the strongest teams of the city, will play three games this week. The city champions of 1933, Gaylord, will oppose Black & White Cab Company at the Grant park diamond in what ought to be the big game of the day. Gaylord has made several adjustments since Black & White beat them in a practice game last Sunday.

STANDARD AT FORT. Standard Oil is another strong team that picks a hard opponent. They face the post team at Fort McPherson beginning at 2 o'clock on the neat diamond in the city outside of Ponce de Leon park.

Ponce de Leon park.

Atlantic Steel Company has an entirely revamped diamond and a new team. The old left-field hole has been filled in and the bank cut away from the first-base line so that no pop flies will now go for home runs. New steel grand stands and dugouts have been constructed and it looks like a real ball park.

The Baseball Boys Slip a Fast One By Mr. Mindling

Well, Mr. Mindling, they did it to you this year. The baseball people did.

They shoved the season up one week (or back one week, as you will) and you never noticed it. It was a fast one right down the alley and you let it go by.

I guess you feel pretty bad about it. For years the baseball season has opened around the 11th or 12th of April. And it's always been cold and sleety and rainy.

And this year you got the weather ready as usual. It sleeted, snowed and rained a bit. And it wasn't the opening week of the season at all. It's next week, Mr. Mindling. Next week. Not this week.

You stood right up there and let the fast one go by. It's a laugh to the baseball people, fooling you that way, Mr. Mindling. I recall the weather you people dished up last season. It was terrible. And the year before, at Nashville, it was worse. Overcoats on open-

Of course you can get mad about it and telephone down to Commander Byrd at Little America, where all the bad weather comes from, to direct another blast up this way. But that Southern Railway vs. Atlantic Steel at ateel plant; I. VanHouten, umpire.

Wouldn't do. You'd look a little bad on a play like that, Mr. Standard Oil Company vs. Fort McPherson at Fort McPherson; Barber, umpire.

Mindling. The only thing for you to do is be a good sport about it and let the weather be normal.

Grant park; Watermelon Young, umpire.

Next year, of course, you will read the papers more carefully. You'd best write for a copy of the schedule and put it up on your wall. You can look at it now and then during March. Maybe put a ring around it. And say to yourself, "Well, those baseball people slipped one by me last year but this year I'll fix 'em.'

Maybe you had in a standing order for bad weather on the 11th and 12th of each April. The baseball people are going to make it tough for you. They are changing the date each You'll have to pay more attention to their winter

I guess you feel pretty bad about it. Forgetting this way. It's a blow to your pride, no doubt. We've always had bad weather for opening day. But this year the boys slipped one by.

They're laughing, Mr. Mindling. Right down the alley and you not looking.

THE MOOSE HIMSELF.

Not since Nick Cullop, the big blond batter, have the Crackers had a player with the potential punch possessed by Moose Clabaugh, the one-time Vol and last year with Baltimore.

Clabaugh was sent away from Nashville, where he was leading in hits and home runs, for some unknown reason. He batted well at Baltimore, thereby disproving the theory that he could bat only in Sulphur Dell where the short rightfield fence has been a new lease on life for several veterans, washed up in real ball parks.

Clabaugh's punch is greatly desired. With him in there am beginning to feel better about the Crackers. I heard Mr. Spencer Abbott calling about him Thursday evening and was hoping the deal would go through yesterday.

The old Moose isn't so old at that. And if he will please bust the baseball for about .340 and 20 home runs I may yet get the laugh at those coarse people who have been giving our boys the laugh.

You hadn't heard about it? Oh, my yes. In the event the Crackers finish up there in front I am going to make a personal appearance in each of the seven rival Southern league cities as the guy who laughs. The old laughing boy himself. Do you know any more telephone numbers, Mr. Abbott?

LO, THE POOR INDIANS? HUH!

It was William Terry, William the Moody, who arranged the series with the Cleveland Indians. The idea was that his World Champion Giants would move northward, packing them in and shellacking the Indians handling in and shellacking the Indians handling.

in and shellacking the Indians handily.

It was to bring the Giants' training season out of the red and bring the Giants into New York with a lot of publicity. And it succeeded. The Giants' will likely show a profit on 3 the training season—an almost unheard of occurrence. And the Giants have had a lot of publicity. But it is the sort which likely will make for empty seats at the opening game in the city of seven million souls. The Giants went into the ninth inning of yesterday's game with the Indians leading and lost the game. In 12 contests the Giants won three and tied one.

As a result the Giants will go into New York an oftbeaten ball club and one at which the fans will likely look once and then go over to see the Yankees play.

The Indians are likely to scalp quite a few teams with their TROPHY The Indians are likely to scalp quite a few teams with their pitching staff. Imagine being able to not care whether a pitcher such as Wes Ferrell reports or not! such as Wes Ferrell reports or not!

THE AMERICAN LEAGUE LEADS.

It is rather curious—the evident superiority of American league baseball. The World Series records show the American league teams to be leading by more than two-to-one in capturing the annual

The Indians, just another club in the American league last year, have trifled with the Giants. And the Indians have been a rather dumb club on bases.

Baseball men explain it by saying that the American league spends more money. The Yankees, the Athletics in past years, and the Red Sox this year, have all taken the bands off the

Until this year the National league has seen no spending except during the years when the late John McGraw was spend ing with a profligate hand. This year the Cincinnati Reds are proached what Tom Yawkey spent on his Red Sox.

Whatever the answer is there is no disputing the fact that the American league has the best ball clubs-year in and year out. The race in the National league is usually better balanced. On Monday Card But the American league leads in series won.

Smithies, Tech Frosh Clash on Track.

Tech High's track team, which came back strong to defeat G. M. A. Tuesday after losing to Boys' High last Friday, will meet the Georgia Tech Freshmen this afternoon at Grant field in a dual meet. It will be a preliminary to the Tech-Alabama battle scheduled to start at 2 o'clock. A feature of the Smithie-Freshmen meet will be the distance and medley relay races.

Abbott Must Suspend 'A' Man To Make Room for Former Vol.

By Jimmy Jones.

More confusion over the Southern league's bizarre pass rule, multitudinous bases on balls by the Buffalo pitchers which the Crackers failed to capitalize on and weather that brought out the overcoats from the moth balls and the hangers attended yesterday's game, which the Crackers lost to the International league club, 5 to 2.

But, in view of the lack of Cracker hitting, the best bit of news to report this morning to the fans is that the Atlanta club has purchased John (Moose) Clabaugh, batting champion of the Southern league in 1931 and 1932 and that he will report to the club immediately.

of the Southern league in 1931 and 1932 and that he will report to the club immediately.

Clabaugh, a left-handed hitter of the longer range variety, walloped the ball at a .378 average the first year he played for the Vols and .382 his second, also clouting 32 home runs the latter year. Last season, he played with Baltimore, of the International league, and compiled an average of .336, including 16 home runs, 20 doubles and 8 triples.

WAS HOLDOUT.

The Crackers bought the "Moose" yesterday from the Galveston club of the Texas league, which he had refused to join after being acquired from Baltimore. The deal was closed between Abbott and R. J. Kohler, president of the Galveston club. Clabaugh said he would accept Atlanta's salary terms.

"I figured that we recorded a little."

and White, the latter a Georgia boy, both pitchers being wild. But Ray Schalk rushed in Fabian Kowaliak, one of his aces, to stop the Crackers.

"We looked terrible at bat; we've got to start getting some hits now, if we don't there may be a little shaking up here and there," Abbott warned his men after the game.

THAT PASS RULE.

Another altercation, involving the Cracker skipper, resulted from the Southern league's new pass rule yesterday in the ninth when Abbott contended with Umpire Bick Campbell that Byrne James should have been allowed to score from second when Kowaliak walked Duck McKee after two were out and with James on second and Taylor on first.

Campbell, who admits that he himself is somewhat confused over the proper interpretation of the rule, did not allow it, however, despite Abbott's importuning.

field in a dual meet. It will be a preliminary to the Tech-Alabama battle scheduled to start at 2 o'clock. A feature of the Smithie-Freshmen meet will be the distance and medley relay races.

Tech High won both events in the recent Baylor invitation meet and set a new record for the event. Members of the team are Fincher, Willis, Hammond and Pierce.

Tech has a strong freshman team and its battle with the Smithies will be well worth the while.

The Crackers will shuffle off with Buffalo again this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Abbott plans to send young Bill Schmidt the whole route against the Bisons to see how the kid likes distance. Gordy, a good-looking semi-pro whom Ray Schalk nicked up in Florida, will hurl for the Bisons.

The teams play today and Sunday and the time of the rule, did not allow it, however, despite Abbott's importuning.

"That rule's going to have every body nuts before it's over with." About gloomily predicted.

The teams play today and Sunday and that is the last of the exhibitions. Schalk said he would pitch Johnny Wilson and Jack White, two Georgia boys (from Thomaston and Blakely, respectively) against the Crackers Sunday.

Here was a job to face—as the 1934 pennant winner in the National league will find out.

A year ago, at this April date, the World's Champion Yankees figured the pennant already won. The schedule was a mere formality. I found the 1934 Giants in quite a different frame of mind. They expect to win again—but only after hard, bitter and continuous battling against Cardinals, Cubs and Pirates (ranked by them in this order), with no little trouble from the Braves and more poison from the Reds.

16-YARD TITLE Fay Murray Joins Those Opposing Rule; All Directors Asked for Vote.

> MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 13.—(AP)—John D. Martin, president of the Southern Association of Baseball Clubs, announced tonight that he had requested telegraphic votes from directors of the league regarding the motion of Wilbert Robinson, president of the Atlanta club, to rescind the "intentional pass rule."

TARZAN AND THE CITY OF GOLD No. 18

The storm's fury made it impossible for Tarzan and Valthour to converse; only the vivid lightning kept them from being separated, as it alone per-mitted Valthour to keep his course across the valley in the direction of the City of Gold and the

Often the fierce wind stopped them and forced them back. For miles they pitted their muscles against the storm god's strength. Suddenly, as though furious at these two puny mortals, the lightning burst into a mighty blaze that illuminated the whole valley for seconds.

The thunder crashed as it had never crashed before, and a mass of water fell that crushed the two men to earth. As they staggered to their feet again, foot-deep water swirled about their legs and they stood in a broad, racing torrent that rushed past them toward the river.

In that last effort the storm god had spent his force. The rain ceased, the pale moon came out and again Valthour led the way toward the Valley of Thenar, his home. Three hours later, the two had safely passed the Bridge of Gold and then found themselves a new difficulty.

DRIVE CAREFULLY TODAY

Driver Responsibility.

A ton or more of steel in motion is a dangerous proposition—unless it is under control and operated by a person who is fully alert to his responsibility. Safe drivers appreciate this fact and drive accordingly. Unsafe Drivers take chances, either thoughtlessly or wil-Driver responsibility covers the whole field of good judgment, caution, and consideration for the safety of self and others.

A distinguished actress remarked A distinguished actress remarked recently that she thought people overestimated the importance of holding on to the illusions of life and underestimated the importance of facing reality fearlessly. Said she: "We are all ready enough to face reality when it ministers to our vanity, when it confirms fhe good opinion we hold of ourselves. We are even willing to a face it when it sheds an unbecoming light on someone we dislike. But in the main we see people and events in either a much better light or in a much worse light than they really are."

distinguished portrait painter A distinguished portrait painter says that every woman "sitter" presents a problem to the artist because she will not be satisfied with a portrait painted to look exactly like her nor will she be satisfied if he isn't faithful to what he sees so he tries always to split the difference and give her a good likeness, yet a slightly idealized likeness of herself.

Is not this a pretty good sugges-tion for the layman who wants to face reality yet at the same time hold on to some of life's illusions? The

As if any man ever kept silent when his heart bade him speak!

Perhaps parents are more prone than any other group of people to shut their eyes to reality. They will tell you that their mentally defi-cient child was dropped by a nurse or hit by a baseball. LEGION HEAD-Edward Hayes, national commander of the American Legion, will speak over the Columbia network, including WGST from 9:30 to 10 o'clock tonight. The occasion will be a testimonial dinner in his honor tendered by the New York department of the Legion at the hotel St. George in Brooklyn. Among the prominent guests who will attend the prominent guests who will attend hotel St. George in Brooklyn. Among the prominent guests who will attend are General John F. O'Ryan, New York police commissioner; Admiral Yates Stirling Jr., and past national commanders of the Legion. Louis Johnson and Henry D. Lindsley.

tion for the layman who wants to face reality yet at the same time hold on to some of life's illusions? The majority of people will go a long way to save their pride, even if they have to fool themselves to do it. Of course they seldom fool their fellows.

Take for instance the good girl who has friends among the opposite sax yet never gets a proposal of marriage. She thinks that her refusal to smoke, pet and drink gives the men the impression that she is a priss and a prude. She honestly believes that she has sacrificed her chances at happiness for the sake of principle.

"ALICE"-"Alice in Wonderland." Lewis Carroll's masterpiece of whim-sical manners and morals, will be presented by the Dramatic Guild over WGST tonight from 8:30 to 9 WGST tonight from 8:30 to 9 o'clock. The radio adaptation of "Alice" was presented for the first time over CBS network during the broadcast of the American School of the Air on February 7. last. It was so successful that repeated requests led to its presentation by the Dra-matic Guild.

CONCERT—The lovely song, "Aut Wiedersehen." from Sigmund Romberg's operetta, "The Blue Paradise," will be featured by Grete Stueckgold, concert soprano, in her program with Andre Kostelanetz's orchestra and chorus to be broadcast over WGST from S to 8:30 o'clock tonight. Mme. Stueckgold will also sing the delightful melody, "Mah Curly-Headed Boy," and the "Balatella," from Bizet's opera, "Carmen." The forty-piece orchestra will open the program with a medley of tunes in three-quarter time, "Three o'Clock in the Morning," and "In a Little Spanish Town." A novel interpretation of the old favorite of the 1920's, "Japanese Sandman," will be presented by the sixteen-voice chostic.

ST. LOUIS—Dedication ceremonles of the new St. Louis municipal anditorium and community center will be broadcast over WGST today from 3:45 to 4:30 p. m. It is estimated that 100,000 persons will attend the dedicatory program. A two weeks' festival and exposition in St. Louis will be opened officially by the broadcast ceremonies. cast ceremonies.

"We'll get Dillinger yet and you can bet he won't get away again,' he said.

Governor McNutt talked politics only briefly, but his face was lighted with a smile and his eyes sparkled as he predicted the overwhelming defeat of Senator Arthur Robinson, of Indiana, one of President Roosevelt's leading critics and the last republican holder of a major political office in Indiana.

"There are numerous candidates for the senate seat." he said, "but whoever gets the democratic nomination is certain to get Senator Robinson's seat. The senator may not even be nominated by his own party. At any rate if Indiana accomplishes nothing more this year it will accomplish the elimination of Senator Robinson."

The governor said he also felt sure that Senator Simeon D. Fess, of his neighboring state of Ohio, would be defeated this year, adding that Governor George White looked like his most likely successor. There are numerous candidates for

'INSIDE' ON F. D. R. AS A FISHERMAN

PALM BEACH, Fla., April 13 .-(P)-The man who should know, Cap-night on tain Herman Gray, President Roose- lon velt's fishing guide, now steps forward to put an end to all this dispute about the results of the recent presidential fishing trip.

Captain Gray has fished with three presidents — Hoover, Harding and Roosevelt—and he said the fish caught on the Roosevelt trip compared in quantity with any other presidential expedition he has guided but they were smaller.

And that, the captain believes, should ston the argument.

some new slants on presidential fishing habits.

"Now Mr. Hoover was a real sportsman at heart. He liked to go out at 7 and stay till dark and land the big ones. President Harding went out, but he didn't spend much time fishing," Gray said.

'President Roosevelt, now, he's a regular fellow. There's always something doing when he's around. But he went on this trip for a rest and he just naturally doesn't care anything about sitting with a line in his hand all day, struggling to bring "em in. He likes to fool around, fish for a while with light tackle, swim, explore the undersea gardens and go boating."
